Visibility : The object near to us will be clearer in appearance with more details and, as far as it goes , the details merge in the other and , at a long distance, object will be invisible gradually.

Expressions : when portrait of an individual is painted , the expressions of the face should be clearly delineated . An artist tries his/her best to show the moment or activities in a manner that the picture may be alive ; smiling, crying, annoying, depressing and other expressions of the face should be painted clearly.
