Life is full of struggles. Our life becomes a hell when we get no outlet or exit to escape. Escaping is not the solution for our worried life but our endeavour to keep ourselves away from the material comforts of life will prevent us from being trapped into the unbearable miseries. At present the students desire success not in terms of learning but in terms of money and for this they take the strange way by indulging themselves in modern filthy politics. They begin exercising discarded norms of religion too for their gain. It is not good for the students to choose unwanted things scattered all around to push themselves into danger and peril. Write an article on “ How to make our life peaceful and progressive without being indulged in other’s interest?”
