Lesson 3

THE STORY OF MY EXPERIMENTS WITH TRUTH

He had set us five words to write as a spelling exercise. One of the words was "kettle". I had miss spelt it. The teacher tried to promot me with the point of his boot, but I would not be promoted. It was beyond me to see that he wanted me to copy the spellings from neighbour's slate, for I had thought that the teacher was there was so supervise us against copying. The results was that all the boys, except myself were found to have spelt evey word correctly. Only I had been stupid.

Yet the incident did not in the least diminsh my respect for my teacher. I was by nature blind to the results of elders. my regards for him remained the same. For I had learnt to carry out the orders of elders, not to scan thier actions. Two others incidents belongings to same period have always clung to my memory. As a rule, I had a distake for any reading beyondmy school books. The daily lessons had to be done because I disliked being taken to task by my teacher as much I disliked deceiving him.
