The summer season

The summer starts in India from March. In this season all the atmosphere gets hot.

In summer few hours in the morning are pleasant.

In March the sun does not become too hot but by April the sun becomes hot by 9 a.m.

The sun becomes very hot by noon in May and June and scorching winds also begin to blow.

In summer season all people suspended their works because they are tired too much by heat.

Even in the evening and in the night the heat doesn't decrease. They feel sleepy and less energetic in the season of summer.

The summer is also the season of the mangoes, the ripe mangoes are very sweet and tasty.

In summer season all the people even all the birds, animals feel thirsty. Many people die from the sunstroke.

The summer season is very good for farmers because after this the clouds come and cause rain.

The summer is good or bad both but we have to prepare for all the seasons.
