Bossaball

If you mix together volleyball, football, gymnastics and trampoline and add music to it, what you will get is pure fun and excitement.

Bossaball was invented by a Belgian, Phillip Eyckmans in 2004. It is played on an inflatable court with a trampoline on both sides of the net. The objective in bossaball as in volleyball is to ground the ball on the opponent's side of the court. The players can use any part of their body to get the ball over the net and into their opponent's section.

A maximum of five touches are allowed per team. Points are awarded based on where the ball falls and when it gets grounded. The first team to score 25 points wins the game.

inflatable:- that can be filled with air when you want to use it grounded:- to hit or touch the ground
