Unusual sports (II)

Chess Boxing

We have played chess and we have heard of or seen boxing matches, But chess boxing? How can there be a combination of a cerebral game with a physical sports? seems rather unlikely. Chess Boxing is a hybrid board game invented by a Dutch performer Iepe Rubingh in 2003. It is now a well-loved sports in Germany, Great Britain, India, and Russia. The sports requires both brain and brawn either beat your opponent in rounds of chess or boxing. The match starts with a four minute round of chess, followed by a three minute round of boxing before returning to the chess board. It consists of 11 round with one minute intervals between rounds.

Cerebral:- Relating to the brain or intelligence

Hybrid:- something made by combining two or more things

Brawn:- Strength of the body
