

Vidya Bhawan Balika Vidyapeeth, LKR.

Class-6th, sub. -Social Science, 25-08-2021

Ch4- key Elements of Democracy(Civics)

Some questions with answers

1.What is representative democracy?

Ans. – The democracy in which people elect their representatives, who run the government on the behalf of the people.

2.Why are the elections held at regular intervals in a democracy?

Ans. -The power of the government is controlled by the people through regular elections. So, elections are held at regular intervals in a democracy.

3.What is the normal tenure of government in India?

Ans. -The normal tenure of government in India is five years.

4.What do you mean by a coalition government?

Ans. – When no one party gets majority, then two or more party joins together to form government is called coalition government.

5.Who forms the opposition in a democratic government?

Ans. -The parties that are in the minority form the opposition in a democratic government.

Write in your copy & learn it.