First of all read on the topic "Should uniform not be made compulsory in schools ?" in just a minute. And then write once again in your own language.

I am in favour of uniform to be made compulsory in schools. First, uniform is a must to create uniformity among the students. In an educational institute all the students are equal. But if a uniform is not made compulsory, the children of the rich people will try to dominate the poor students by wearing expensive clothes. Secondly, uniform is a token of recognition of a student. If a student wears a uniform, it is a status symbol also. Moreover, uniform teaches the students many great virtues like discipline, patience and fellow feelings. For these reasons I am in favour of uniform to be made compulsory in schools.
