CHAPTER - 3

TOPIC- PRONOUNS

E. Given below are short paragraphs. Edit the paragraphs with suitable usage of Pronouns and rewrite them:

- 1. Globalization is the process of growing, developing and expanding the business, services or technologies all through the world. It is the expansion of various business to the Global markets throughout the world. It requires huge international investment to develop large multinational corporations for the worldwide economic integration. It is to increase the connectivity and interdependence of the business in the worldwide markets. In the last few decades it has taken the form of technological advancement which resulted in easier travel, communication and other business on international level for the people. On one hand, where it has made easy access of technologies to us, it has also decreased the opportunity of success by increasing competition*
- 2. Two friends went out on a long journey. They happened to pass through a thick forest. They felt a big nervous; but as they promised to stand by each other and share the same fate they could walk on with some confidence in their mind. They had not gone far when a wild bear came out from among the trees. One of them in great fear climbed up the nearest tree without caring to think what would happen to his friend. His friend, on his path flat on the ground and held in his breath, pretending to be dead. As he lay thus, the bear came up to him and smelt him all over his body. Finding him stiff in all his limbs, it took him to be dead and walked away. When it was gone the man in the tree came down. He greeted his friend, saying—'Thank God that you are saved. My friend, I saw the bear put it's mouth very close to your ear. Did it say anything to you?' The friend replied, Yes, it warned me against a friend who left me in my danger to seek his own safety'.*

3. The Fox one day thought of a plan to amuse himself at the expense of the Stork, at whose odd appearance he was always laughing. ‘You must come and dine with me today’, he said to the Stork, smiling to him at the trick he was going to play. The Stork gladly accepted the invitation and arrived in good time and with a very good appetite. For dinner he served soup. But it was set out in a very shallow dish, and all the Stork could do was to wet the very tip of his bill. Not a drop of soup could he get. But the Fox lapped it up easily, and, to increase his disappointment made a great show of enjoyment. The hungry Stork was more displeased at the trick, but he was calm, even-tempered fellow and saw no good in flying into a rage. Instead, not long afterward the Stork invited the Fox to dine with him in turn. He arrived promptly at the time that had been set, and the Stork served a fish dinner that had a very appetizing smell. But it was served in a tall jar with a very narrow neck. The Stork could easily get at the food with the their long bill, but all the fox could do was to lick the outside of the jar, and sniff at the delicious odour. And when he lost his temper, the Stork said calmly: Do not play tricks on your neighbours unless you can stand the same treatment yourself.
