

VIDYA BHAWAN BALIKA VIDYPITH SHAKTI UTTHAN

ASHARAM LAKHISARAI

Class VIth. Subject Geography Date 20.1.2021.

India: Climate Vegetation Wildlife

NCERT Solution

Fill in the blanks:

1. Hot and dry winds known as _____ blow during the day in the summers.

Answer: Loo

2. The states of Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu receive a great amount of rainfall during the season of _____.

Answer: Autumn

3. _____ forest in Gujarat is the home of _____.

Answer: Gir, Asiatic Lions

4. _____ is a well-known species of mangrove forests.

Answer: Sundari

5. _____ are also called monsoon forests.

Answer: Tropical Deciduous Forests

---

Answer These Questions

Which winds bring rainfall in India? Why is it so important?

Answer: The monsoon winds bring rainfall in India. Agriculture in India is highly dependent on monsoon. Hence, this wind is important for India.

Name the different seasons in India.

Answer: Different seasons in India are as follows:

- a. Winter Season
- b. Summer Season
- c. Rainy Season
- d. Autumn Season

What is natural vegetation?

Answer: Plants which grow on their own without human intervention are called natural vegetation.

Name the different types of vegetation found in India.

Answer: Different types of vegetation in India are as follows:

- Tropical Evergreen Forest
- Tropical Deciduous Forest
- Thorny Bushes
- Mountain Forest
- Mangrove Forest

What is the difference between evergreen forest and deciduous forest?

Answer: The trees of the evergreen forest do not shed leaves at a particular time of the year, while the trees of the deciduous forest shed their leaves at a particular time of the year.

SUBJECT TEACHER'S MUKESH KUMAR